

Blueberries Newsletter

Patchwork, Quilting & Accessories

Wednesday 15 April 2009

Welcome to Mid Week Moments #6, we hope you enjoy this week's edition of our newsletter. Firstly we would like to apologise that last week a Mid Week Moments newsletter was not sent, this was due to a technical glitch that is now fixed.

Exciting Changes - Have you heard about the changes to our Store at Wyong.
Click here to read our Blog to find out more.

Feature Fabric

This week we are excited to be featuring "Sachets of Pot Pourri" By Faye Burgos for Marcus Fabrics. As soon as I saw this range of fabrics I fell in love! I am captured by the subtle romance of this range- the delicate florals, paisleys and spots just ooze elegance!

I can't wait to see some projects completed using this range- its just simply delightful!

We are sure that you will love this range as much as we do- so click on the picture to be taken right into our store so you can purchase some for yourself!

Sandpaper, Ironing and Cutting Boards are In Stock!

We are so thrilled that these hot little numbers are finally back in stock! These nifty little things are so handy, every sewer certainly would need one in her stash.. :)

The cutting board measures 8 x 11 inches and the ironing board measures 19 x 12 inches long

They are so cute and handy! And at $32.00 they won't last long! They come in various designs and can be ordered online by clicking on the image above.

Our Blog is up and running!

Just another little reminder before we finish up this week in case some of you missed out last week- our very own "Blueberries" Blog has been set up and its so awesome! We are going to be updating this very very regularly so please remember to check back in on us to see what's new and happening around our shop- there is lots of exciting news coming up so you don't want to miss out. Well that's it for another week- we look forward to seeing you in store soon!

Til next week!
